Hello everyone,

What a fun filled week! Our Halloween Parade was a great success. It was great to see so many parents stick around to be an audience for us. :) Thank you parents for being thoughtful about what types of 'accessories' came to school with the children. And thank you to Ms. Cameron for letting me be the Beetlejuice to her Lydia Deetz.

Aside from the two 'inside days' today, we have been out every day this year. As I have stated before, we really like the kids to get their fresh air and exercise. If you notice, or know that your child is the type to go outside in a t-shirt in the pouring rain or jump through puddles in their running shoes (sound familiar?), could you please pack extra clothing in their bags, or send a set to the teacher. A waterproof coat and boots are also a bonus. Unfortunately, Ms. Phye, who has both a dryer in the room, as well as extra clothing, pays the price for me calling an outside day when it is wet. Your help with this would be greatly appreciated.

This coming week we have a couple of excellent field trips happening as well as our Remembrance Day Assembly on Friday.

Finally, thank you to the many parent helpers that were involved in making and serving us a delicious serving of 'Scary Spagetti' for Hot Lunch this week. I especially loved the little cheese eyeballs with olives.

I think that is all for now. Looks like the weather should clear up a bit.

Have a great one:)

Andrew
